

Colmore Charity & Care

Care Sector Insurance

With many years' experience and a passion for the sector, the Colmore Charity & Care team can help guide your care organisation through the exposures it faces, recommending tailor made policies and advice to protect you against both general business risks and those risks specific to your sector. This leaves you to focus on the tasks that matter to your organisation.

Care Sector Insurance

In the highly regulated care sector it is more important than ever that care providers work closely with an insurance broker who understands the regulations under which they operate and the exposures they face. Insurers, more so than ever, are using Care Quality Commission reports to underwrite care risks, and this has a direct impact on whether you can obtain cover and at what cost.

Examples of care organisations we are able to provide insurance cover for include:

- Residential care homes for the elderly, people with learning/physical disabilities and people with mental health issues
- Sheltered or assisted living accommodation for vulnerable adults
- Hospices
- Moving on/transition accommodation
- Respite care accommodation
- Rehabilitation centres
- Centres providing day care
- Children's homes

The team at Colmore Insurance Brokers has many years' experience placing cover specifically for the care sector and we can assist with:

- Reviewing CQC reports and fully detailing to insurers any improvements required, the reasons why improvements have been identified, and the action plan designed to resolve the issues detailed
- Reviewing the adequacy of the period of indemnity for business interruption, taking into account CQC requirements and the need for a design specific re-build so as to meet current care and building regulations
- Ensuring liability cover extends to cover potential abuse related claims
- Explaining the differences between a typical treatment cover extension and medical malpractice cover
- Highlighting the need to cover employed nurses for malpractice

Our capability and values

Every client matters to us. We are resolved to making sure this is constantly reflected in the service we offer. The values upon which Colmore Insurance Brokers has been established guide our daily operations and ensure that we remain attentive to the requirements of our clients at all times. We do this through our integrity, expert advice and our focus and passion to helping you, our client.
