Employment Practices Liability Insurance

More organisations than ever are finding out just how complex the employment relationship has become. Employers are facing a growing number of employment claims from their employees and unfortunately charities are not immune. Employment Practices Liability Insurance protects against the significant legal costs that can be incurred in defending an employment related claim.

Employment Practices Liability Insurance

With the number of employment related dispute claims on the rise, in conjunction with an increase in the cost of such claims, it has become more important than ever to consider mitigating such an exposure. The Colmore Charity & Care team has substantial experience of the range of policies within the insurance marketplace and will be able to advise you on the best policy for your needs.

Faced with employment dispute claims such as wrongful dismissal, discrimination or harassment, defence costs can be sizeable and have a significant impact on resources when uninsured. Even unfounded allegations can take time, energy and money to defend, and Employment Practices Liability Insurance can provide valuable protection such as:

- Cover for past, current and prospective employees
- Provision of a free employment advice line
- Legal defence costs
- Costs incurred attending tribunals
- Investigation expenses
- Settlements and awards

Our capability and values

Every client matters to us. We are resolved to making sure this is constantly reflected in the service we offer. The values upon which Colmore Insurance Brokers has been established guide our daily operations, and ensure that we remain attentive to the requirements of our clients at all times.

Integrity - We are regulated by the Financial Conduct Authority and adhere to its core standard of Treating Customers Fairly. This means our clients can have the confidence that whatever advice we offer, it is delivered with their interests in mind.

Expert advice - Colmore Insurance Brokers has years of combined experience gained from different organisations. This has given our team the strong expertise on which to build their firm, and enables them to take a holistic approach to risk and deliver bespoke insurance solutions.

Client focussed - The client is at the heart of all we do. We are an independent insurance broker with access to the leading insurers including Lloyds, but because we are not constrained by any of them, our services are steered by our clients' requirements, not insurer earnings.

Passionate - We are passionate and driven to succeed for our clients, both corporate and private. Only through our desire to make life easier for our clients and try to help them avoid financial difficulty can we seek out protection that will serve them well. We hope to meet all of our clients in person so we can fully understand any challenges they face and source outstanding risk solutions.
